

Inherent Risk Agreement

I _____ understand that there is an inherent risk in sending my dog _____ on an off leash adventure. Inherent adventure risks may include: abrasions, cuts, punctures, injured paw pads, broken toe nails, ligament tears, broken bones and rattlesnake bites. Auggie's Doggie Adventures does everything possible to minimize dangers, including, leashing all dogs within 100 yards of any road and adventuring in safe environments.

In the event of an accident, Auggie's Doggie Adventures will do everything possible to help care for your pet including veterinary care. I encourage clients to leave a credit card on file with their veterinarian. For injuries requiring immediate medical assistance, I will travel to the nearest veterinary clinic. It is the responsibility of the pet owner to reimburse Auggie's Doggie Adventures for any veterinary costs.

Auggie's Doggie Adventures is not responsible for any possible injuries to your pet, including death, unless it is found that Auggie's Doggie Adventures was negligent in the handling of your pet.

It is the responsibility of the pet owner to make sure Auggie's Doggie Adventures is informed of any potential difficulties the pet owner may have experienced in an off leash environment. Auggie's Doggie Adventures encourages clients to purchase pet insurance. Pet insurance will put you at ease knowing you and your pet are covered.

By signing this form, I hereby acknowledge that I have read and understand the risks of sending my pet on an adventure hike and wave all legal claims against Auggie's Doggie Adventures and those they employ.
